REPORT OF THE COUNCIL,

To the Members, at the Annual General Meeting, Wednesday, February 23rd, 1876.

I. SESSION 1874–75.

PUPILS AND FEES.

The entire number of Pupils during this Session was 1606, being an increase of 15 on that of the preceding Session. Of these, 900 were Students in the College, and 706 Pupils in the School. Of the Students, 335 belonged to the Faculty of Medicine, 99 being new Students: in the Faculties of Arts and Laws and of Science there were 565 Students; in these Faculties there were 253 new Students. The largest number of Boys in the School in any one Term was 589.

The Fees received (exclusive of those for Clinical Instruction) amounted to £27,687 19*s.* 6*d.*, being £2254 9*s.* more than in Session 1873–74. This sum consists of the following items:—Fees for attendance on the Classes of the Faculty of Medicine, £6794 11*s.*; Fees for attendance on the Classes of the Faculties of Arts and Laws and of Science, £7199 6*s.* 6*d.*; School Fees, £13,694 2*s.* The total payments to Professors, Teachers, and Masters amounted to £18,600 7*s.* 2*d.*, leaving £9087 12*s.* 4*d.* for the College portion, which was thus greater by £1228 11*s.* 5*d.* than in the preceding Session. In addition to the above-stated amounts, the sum of £2387 8*s.* (being a increase of £288 5*s.* on the previous year) was received for Clinical Instruction in the Hospital, making a total of £9181 19*s.* paid by Students of the Faculty of Medicine in the Session. The Clinical Fees were, as usual, devoted to the support of the Hospital, no part of them being taken by the Medical Officers.

SCHOOL.

The death on November 29th of Prof. Key, one of the two founders of the School, and up the time of his death its Head Master, was felt by the Council as a serious loss to the College, and at their next Session they adopted the following Resolutions as expressions of their sense of Prof. Key's great services to the College, both as a distinguished Professor from the first opening of the Institution, and as a Head Master, whose enlightened views on education had moulded the system adopted in the School from its origin, and had thus not only laid the foundations of the success of this School, but by its example had exercised great influence upon other Schools throughout the country, and had led to many improvements in the systems of instruction and of management pursued in them.

"(i) That the Council desire to place on record their high appreciation of the distinguished services of Mr. Key during the long period of his connexion with the College, and their deep sense of the loss which the College and School, as well as Classical study in this country, have sustained in his death. Mr. Key was the sole survivor of the Professors who constituted the educational staff of the College at the time of its opening in 1828; and during the whole of that period he had been unceasing in his devotion to the interests of the Institution; the time not demanded for the discharge of his duties in the College and School being given, almost without exception, to literary studies and inquiries more or less in connexion with the subject of those duties.

"(ii) That a copy of the foregoing Resolution be sent to Mrs. Key, with the expression of the sincere sympathy of the Council with her and her family in the bereavement which they have sustained."

It will now be the Council's duty, of the importance of which they are fully sensible, to select as a successor to the late Head Master one who may conduct and preside over the School in the same enlightened spirit, and will thus keep it in the van among the foremost schools of the country.

The following resolution adopted on February 24th by the Council on the recommendation of the Committee of Management, relates to an interesting event in the history of the School:—

"That the Council desiring, on this the first occasion of the award by the London School Board of the Numa Hartog Scholarship, to mark the interest felt by them in the object of the Scholarship, hereby offer to the father of the Scholar, E. G. Harmer, a free admission for his son to University College School during his tenure of the Scholarship, subject to the conditions stated in the 9th paragraph of the Deed of Trust relating to the Scholarship."

The offer thus made was accepted, and the Numa Hartog Scholar has since been a pupil in the School.

The following extracts from the Reports of the late Head Master and of the Vice-Master give the usual information respecting the School during the past Session.

"The following Table shows that the increase in the number of boys in the School continues without interruption:—

	1st Term.	2nd Term.	3rd Term.	Average for the year.
1870–71.....	442	495	511	483
1871–72.....	501	524	530	518
1872–73.....	508	542	567	539
18673–4.....	540	574	575	563
1874–75.....	560	582	589	577"

In the first Term of the current Session the number of Pupils rose to 607.

In the Vice-Master's Report he states,—

"The average number of Terms spent by boys in the School has been during the last four years $7\frac{1}{3}$, as against $6\frac{2}{3}$ for the previous five years, and $6\frac{1}{2}$ for the preceding period of eight years."

"The growth of the School during the past four years has been due not to more numerous entries, for the number of Entries has remained constant, but to the increased length of time which boys now remain in the School."

"The body of monitors instituted experimentally two or three years ago, with a view to the preservation of order in our numerous passages, continues to exhibit increasing efficiency. Without giving the least sign of any preternatural sobriety in their own manners, the monitors do nevertheless contribute very important services in the cause of discipline."

"The percentage of boys entered in the Black-book has been 16."

"The number of entries per 100 boys for the past three years has been 29½."

From the Tables appended to the Vice-Master's Report it appears that only 20 boys out of an average of 577 in the School were entered twice in the Black-book during the Session, and 76 were entered once. This satisfactory statement of the general condition of the discipline of the School receives frequent confirmation in the Reports of the Assistant Masters in relation to their several classes.

The following list of distinctions obtained by former pupils of the School was selected by Mr. Key from a much longer list compiled by the Vice-Master, and prefixed to the printed "School Honour List:"—

In the last Report the Council announced the offer by Mr. S. Sharpe of a contribution of £4000 towards the cost of any further enlargement of the School Buildings that might be found necessary in consequence of the continued increase in the number of the School Pupils. The addition made to that number in the last Session rendered it desirable, in the opinion of the Council, to make provision for greater accommodation. Accordingly, at the Session on May 1, a resolution was adopted, informing Mr. Sharpe that the Council were prepared to accept his generous offer, and to apply the amount above named for the purpose stated by him. At the Session on July 3rd the Council approved the plans for the proposed new Building, prepared by the Architect, and accepted the tender for their execution made by Messrs. Clarke and Bracey. At the same Session it was announced that Mr. Sharpe had transferred stock of the value of £4000 to the College, in fulfilment of his promise. The work was at once begun, and has been crrried on almost uninterruptedly until the present time, and such good progress has been made, that there is reason to expect that the new building will be ready for occupation by the beginning of the ensuing Summer Term. The entire cost will be about £7000, of which nearly one half will have to be defrayed out of the General College Funds, unless other friends of the College should be disposed to follow the generous example set by Mr. Sharpe, and thus provide the balance of the necessary expenditure. Sixteen class-rooms will be added in the new building to the previous School accommodation, which will then be sufficient for a further considerable increase of pupils; and this will enable the School to surrender the part still occupied by it of the original College building, which will be of great advantage in providing accommodation much needed for various strictly College purposes.

GENERAL FINANCES.

The surplus of receipts over expenditure for this Session was the large sum of £3421 0*s.* 11*d.* This satisfactory position of our finances is accounted for mainly by the facts:—1st. That the College share of the Fees was £1228 11*s.* 5*d.* greater than in the preceding Session; 2nd. That the expenditure on maintenance, repairs, &c. of buildings was £1392 10*s.* 1*d.* less than in 1873–74. The remainder of the present surplus is made up of various minor savings in the expenditure. This state of the finances has enabled the Council to write off the outstanding deficits of the Fine Art and the second School Building Funds, amounting together to £2576 10*s.* 1*d.*, an operation which has reduced the surplus to be carried forward to £844 10*s.* 10*d.*

The total of the establishment expenses was £1270 less than in the previous Session, and the Surplus is £2785 greater.

II. THE CURRENT SESSION.

The entries of Students to February 15th have been as follows:—In the Faculty of Medicine, 324, of whom 92 are new Students; in the Faculties of Arts and Laws and of Science, 429, of whom 203 are new Students: in the School, in Michaelmas Term, 607, of whom 117 were new pupils; in the present Term, 612, 80 being new pupils. Compared with the entries to February 15th last year, these returns show an increase of 11 in the Medical Classes, and a decrease of 38 in the Arts, Laws, and Science Classes; in the School an increase of 47 in the Michaelmas Term, and of 40 in the present Term.

The increase in the number of new Medical Students this Session is 11; of new Students in the other Faculties there is a decrease of 38.

The College Fees received to February 15th are £4452 in the Faculty of Medicine, and £5824 7*s.* in the Faculties of Arts and Laws and of Science. These sums are an increase of £35 in the Medical Fees, and a decrease of £133 16*s.* in the Fees of the other Faculties, as compared with the corresponding receipts to the same date last year.

III. THE YEAR FROM FEBRUARY 1875 TO FEBRUARY 1876.

At the First LL.B. Examination in January 1876, out of 25 Candidates who passed, 22 proceeded from private study, and the remainder from 3 Institutions, 1 being a Student of this College.

Four hundred and fifty-five Students passed the Matriculation Examination, 290 in June 1875, and 165 in January 1876; of these, 68 proceeded from private study. Of the remaining 387, 56 (including 36 from the School) were from University College; of these, 33 passed at the June Examination, of whom 8 (6 from the School) passed in Honours, and 19 (including 8 from the School) in the First Division; of the 23 from the College who matriculated in January 1876, 4 (all from the School) passed in Honours, and 17 (12 of whom were from the School) in the First Division.

Of the other distinctions gained by present or former Students of the School and College, the following are some of the principal, in addition to those mentioned under the head of "School." In the University of Cambridge: Mr. M. J. M. Hill a Scholarship at Peterhouse, Mr. C. M. Thompson the Natural Science Scholarship at Trinity, Mr. E. J. Brook-Smith an Exhibition at St. John's, Mr. J. N. Keynes has been promoted to a Foundation Scholarship at Pembroke, Mr. W. W. R. Ball gained the Yeats Prize at Trinity.

Mr. W. W. R. Ball and Mr. James Ward were, in October 1875, elected Fellows of Trinity College.

In the last competitive examination for the Indian Civil Service, Mr. M. J. M. Hill obtained the first place, his answers being spoken of as having been of quite exceptional excellence.

Other distinctions have been enumerated in this Report in connexion with the School (pp. 3–5).

REPORT OF THE ROYAL COMMISSION ON SCIENTIFIC INSTRUCTION.

The measures mentioned in the last Report, as intended to be taken by the Council in support of the recommendations in favour of the College made by the Commissioners in their fifth Report, were completed soon after the General Meeting in February 1875; and a Deputation, headed by the President, composed of Members of the Council and of the Senate, and comprising several distinguished men of science not directly connected with the College, were received by the Lord President of the Council on March 9th, when Lord Belper presented a statement of the claims of the College upon public support, and enforced the statement by giving illustrations of the various ways in which assistance from the public funds given to the College would conduce to the advantage of the community at large. His Grace the Duke of Richmond listened attentively and courteously to the representations thus made to him, and undertook to bring the subject under the consideration of his colleagues in the Government. Owing to the period of the year at which these communications took place, it was hardly expected that it would be possible for the Government to make the needful arrangements for bringing the subject before Parliament last Session; but communications on this matter have recently passed between the Duke of Richmond and Lord Belper, from which it appears that the whole subject has been and is under the consideration of the Government, so that the Council trust something may be done, in the course of the present Session of Parliament, to carry into effect the recommendations made by the Royal Commissioners.

THE CLOTHWORKERS' EXHIBITIONS.

This subject was mentioned in the last Report, when it was understood that there would be only one Exhibition. At the Session of Council on May 1st, however, a communication was received from the Company announcing that they had resolved to give, after 1875, two Exhibitions of £50 each instead of one, so that an Exhibition might be awarded every year and be held for two years. Thus the encouragement held out by the Company to the study of Natural Science in the College has been doubled, and the Council feel assured that the Members of the College will fully appreciate the benefit thus conferred upon it.

THE MAYER DE ROTHSCHILD AND WHITWORTH EXHIBITIONS.

The Baroness M. de Rothschild carried into effect her intention to found an Exhibition of £50 a year for Pure Mathematics, as reported last year, and the first award of the Exhibition was made at the end of the Session to Mr. H. F. Morley, who gained also the Clothworkers' Exhibition for Chemistry and Physics.

A proposal to establish, by way of trial, Exhibitions for Engineering Students was made by Sir Joseph Whitworth to the Council early in February 1875; but, the scheme being somewhat special in its character, was not finally settled until several months subsequently, so that the subject could not be referred to in the last Report, but the scheme was partially carried into effect at the end of last Session, when (in consequence, it is believed, of the want of sufficient publicity) only one out of the three offered Exhibitions was competed for, and this was awarded to Mr. W. B. Dutton. It is hoped that the longer notice and greater publicity intended to be given this year to the advantages offered by the plan will attract a much larger number of Candidates, and thus enable Sir J. Whitworth's generous intention to be more fully realized, so as to promote the scientific study of the important branch of Applied Science to which it relates, and at the same time to assist in the development of the College Department of Engineering. The best thanks of the Council and members are due to Sir Joseph Whitworth for choosing this College as one of the institutions for giving effect to his desire to assist Students who propose to devote themselves to a profession of which he is himself so eminent a Member.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

The death of Professor Grant was mentioned in the last Report; but his successor in the Chair of Comparative Anatomy and Zoology was not appointed until the Session of Council on February 10th, when Mr. E. Ray Lankester, M.A., Fellow of Exeter College, Oxford, was appointed Professor. This gentleman has already acquired great and wide distinction in his department of science, and his energy and devotion to his subject bid fair to lead to a great development in this branch of the College work, especially in the practical studies of the Laboratory, the means of carrying on which on a larger scale than hitherto the Council have been happy to place at Prof. Lankester's disposal.

At their Session on June 5th the Council received and accepted with regret the resignation of Prof. Courtney, who had for several years held the Professorship of Political Economy, and whose intended absence, for a considerable time, from England rendered it impossible for him to continue to hold that office beyond the then current Session. The Council were fortunate in being able, at their Session in December, to appoint as his successor Mr. W. S. Jevons, M.A., F.R.S., a Fellow of the College, now Professor of Political Economy at Owens College, Manchester, who had, in that office, and by his writings on the science, become a recognized authority upon it. But as Prof. Jevons felt himself bound to remain at Manchester until the end of the current Session, the Council, on his recommendation, appointed Mr. H. S. Foxwell, M.A., Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge, Lecturer on Political Economy here during this Session, in order that there might be no break in the instruction given in the College on the important subject of the Chair.

The Professorship of Chinese has become vacant by the resignation of Prof. Holt, who was about to return to official duties in China. This vacancy has not yet been filled.

Professor Eggeling having been appointed to the endowed Chair of Sanskrit in the University of Edinburgh, has resigned his Chair in the College. The usual steps have been taken to obtain the services of a successor to him, but the appointment has not yet been made.

At their Session on May 1st the Council received a letter from Prof. Malden, in which he tendered his resignation of the Professorship of Greek. On receiving this communication the Council adopted a resolution expressive of their high sense of the great services rendered by Prof. Malden to the College during his tenure, for the long period of forty-four years, of the Professorship. Subsequently it was arranged that Mr. Malden should retain his Professorship during the present Session; but he will definitively terminate his duties here in June next, and steps have already been taken with a view to the appointment of his successor.

The death of Mr. Key, referred to in this Report in connexion with the School, has left the Professorship of Comparative Grammar vacant. Mr. Key was the first holder of that Professorship, to which he was appointed in 1842. Since that date the science of Philology has been more generally studied than had previously been the case; and there can be no doubt that the increased interest with which the subject is now regarded is to some extent attributable to the zeal with which he devoted himself to his professorial duties, and to the extensive erudition which he displayed in lecturing on the subject in which he took an enthusiastic interest, which gave to his lectures a charm rendering them most attractive, and communicating his enthusiasm to many of the Students.

Early in the last Vacation, Prof. Poynter was offered and accepted the important post of Director-General of the Fine-Art Department under the Committee of Council on Education, in connexion with the South Kensington Museum. He stipulated, however, with the authorities that he should retain the Slade Professorship here until the end of this Session, and thus secured ample time for the Council to select his successor, and to consider what other measures it might be desirable to take under the grave circumstances of losing the services of a gentleman who had organized our Fine-Art School, and under whose superintendence it had attained so rapidly a remarkable degree of success and reputation. The Council have entrusted the preliminary proceedings connected with this important subject to the Slade Committee, which will be assisted in its inquiries by Prof. Poynter, whose undiminished interest in the Fine-Art Department is shown by his anxiety to aid the Council in securing the appointment of a successor who will carry on the work, so well begun, in the spirit which has characterized his own labours, and with the same elevated objects.

The title of Emeritus Professor of Clinical Surgery has been conferred upon Sir Henry Thompson on his resignation of the offices of Surgeon and Professor of Clinical Surgery, and that of Professor of Clinical Surgery upon Mr. Erichsen and Mr. Berkeley Hill. Mr. Christopher Heath has been appointed Holme Professor of Clinical Surgery in succession to Mr. Erichsen.

Dr. Ringer has been appointed Professor of Clinical Medicine.

The title of Assistant Professor conferred upon Dr. Graham and Mr. Schäfer last Session has been continued to those gentlemen for the present Session.

Mr. Beck has succeeded Prof. Heath as Teacher of Operative Surgery, and Mr. Barker has taken Mr. Beck's place as Teacher of Pathological Surgery.

In connexion with this subject it must be mentioned that the Treasurer, Sir F. H. Goldsmid, has recently made known to the Council his intention to continue for at least another Session the augmentation of £200 a year for the Chair of Applied Mathematics and Mechanics, which he has generously given for the last four years, the present being the last of the five years to which his original undertaking was limited. Thus another important service has been rendered to the College by the Treasurer, who, during a long series of years, has been indefatigable in promoting its welfare and that of the Hospital, not only by acts of liberality, but also by devoting constant attention to the affairs of both Institutions.

DEPARTMENT OF THE FINE ARTS.

Notwithstanding the adoption of the measures referred to in the last Report for restricting the number of Students admitted to this Department, the total entries for the Session showed an increase over those of the previous year, having amounted to 220 as against 205, while 142 Students attended in the Summer Term alone, as against 133 in that Term of 1874.

In order to secure admission and better accommodation for those Students who wished to enter for the complete Course, the Council, on the recommendation of Prof. Poynter, authorized the discontinuance of the "partial courses," which required the attendance of the Students only three days per week, but left the selection of the particular days to the Students who, as experience showed, manifested a tendency to choose the same three days, and so caused inconvenient crowding on those days: this measure did something to obviate the evils occasioned by the insufficient accommodation in the Fine Art Schools, while, as has been shown, it did not diminish the number of Students.

The Fine-Art Library has been augmented by the transfer to it of a considerable number of illustrated works, part of the bequests made to the College by the late Mr. James Yates, and which, on the settlement of the litigation relating to that gentleman's Will, were given up to the College by his executors.

The Slade Scholarships last year were awarded to Mr. Robert Morley and Mr. W. B. Wollen. Prizes of money, medals, and books were awarded as usual, on the report of Professor Poynter, to the Students who had been most successful in the various competitions.

The intended Retirement of Prof. Poynter at the end of the present Session has been mentioned under the head of "Professorships."

RETIRED PROFESSORS' FUND.

This Fund has received an important augmentation from Mr. S. Sharpe, the gentleman whose liberality founded it in 1868. At their Session on May 1st the Council received an offer from that generous friend of the College to present to the Fund £2100 Great Western Guaranteed Stock, thus increasing the annual income of the Fund more than threefold. The offer was, it need hardly be said, most thankfully accepted.

LADIES' CLASSES AT THE COLLEGE.

The attendance at the Classes belonging to the Ladies' Educational Association, which meet here and are taught by Professors and other Teachers attached to the College, has largely increased during the last Session.

In addition to the regular College Classes of Political Economy and of Jurisprudence, which Ladies have hitherto been allowed to enter, the Classes of Geology and Roman Law have this Session been opened to them at the request of Professors Morris and Hunter and on the recommendation of the Senate.

THE YATES' BEQUESTS.

The decision of the House of Lords in favour of the College reported last year was followed by negociations between the College and Mr. Yates's legal representatives for the purpose of amicably carrying into effect that decision, and of preventing any further litigation. The terms agreed to between the parties were stated in a Declaration of Trust executed by them in December last, and in pursuance of its provisions the Stocks in which the College has a reversionary interest have been transferred into the joint names of the College and of Mr. Yates's executors. In the course of these proceedings it was discovered that in estimating for Probate the value of the Railway Stocks, the amount of that in the North Western Railway Company had been erroneously supposed to be £4887, whereas it was actually only £4387, so that the fund for the future endowment of the Chair of Geology may be reckoned at about the value of £6175 instead of £6830, as estimated in last year's Report.

ATCHISON SCHOLARSHIPS.

It has been found that the estate of the late Surgeon-Major Atchison will be insufficient to enable his Executor to pay to the College the full amount of £5000, bequeathed by him to found these Scholarships, and a considerable part of the estate being in India, there has been greater delay than had been anticipated in realizing it. It has been thought necessary, moreover, for the security of the Executor, to pay the money already received into the Court of Chancery, and it is intended to take the direction of the Court as to the scheme for the application of the income of the Fund. Hence, it is feared, it will not be possible to make any award of the Scholarships during the present Session.

THE LIBRARIES.

The chief work done during the past year in connexion with the Libraries has been the continuation of that connected with the preparation for the printing of the Catalogues, mentioned in the last Report. A few sheets of the Catalogue have been completed, a tender for the printing of the whole work has been accepted, and as all difficulties connected with the general plan of arrangement, on the clearness and consistency of which much of the usefulness of the Catalogue, when completed, will depend, have now been overcome, there is reason to hope that the work will progress much more rapidly than hitherto.

The MS. Catalogue of the Biological Library, presented to the College a few years ago by Prof. Sharpey, the compilation of which he has himself either made or superintended, has been finished, and is now in the hands of the binder. It is proposed to arrange in the room which contains the Sharpey Library that portion of the late Prof. Grant's Library which relates to biological science.

Under the Will of the late Mr. James Yates, the College has received between 300 and 400 volumes, most of them relating to Classical Antiquities and to Geology and Archæology. Upwards of 200 volumes of Chinese Books presented by General Sir George Balfour, K.C.B., M.P., have been added to the Morrison Collection, the work of superintending the binding of which, interrupted by the departure of Prof. Summers to Japan, has lately been resumed by Prof. Douglas, of King's College, whose eminence as a Chinese Scholar is a guarantee that the work will be done well. It is probable that he will also be engaged to finish the Catalogue of the Chinese Library, in which Prof. Summers had made considerable progress before he left England, and the completion of which will add greatly to the usefulness of the valuable and extensive Library of Chinese Literature belonging to the College, and may, it is hoped, make its contents better known and more available for general instruction.

The other principal donations of books during the past year are from the following:—The Lords Commissioners of H. M. Treasury, the Astronomer Royal, the Royal Society, the Royal Astronomical Society, the Royal Society of Literature, the Royal Asiatic Society, the Royal Institution of Great Britain, the Royal Medical and Chirurgical Society, the Royal Institute of British Architects, the Society of Antiquaries, the Pathological Society, the Asiatic Society of Bengal, the Statistical Society, the Zoological Society, the Obstetrical Society, the Pharmaceutical Society, the Clinical Society, the Physical Society, the new Shakspeare Society, the Smithsonian Institution, the Quekett Microscopical Club, Samuel Sharpe, Esq., Lady Bourchier, H. H. the Maharajah of Burdwan (who presented the College with eleven splendidly bound volumes of Sanskrit Texts, printed at his expense at his own press, and under his personal superintendance), J. F. Rotton, Esq., Mrs. Grote, Dr. Rost, Hyde Clarke, Esq., the Baroness Mayer de Rothschild, A. Grote, Esq., the Rev. E. J. Thorold Rogers, Professors Stanley Jevons, F.R.S., C. Heath, Key, F.R.S., Sanderson, F.R.S., Sharpey, F.R.S., Oliver, F.R.S., Bastian, F.R.S., Childers, Erichsen, and Wharton Jones.

MUSEUMS.

Steps have been taken to effect improvements in the contents, arrangement, and general management of the Museums of Anatomy and of Comparative Anatomy, so as to render them more useful as means of instruction to Students in the Faculties of Medicine and Science. A permanent Committee has been appointed to carry out these improvements and to superintend the Officers who have charge of the Museums. The pecuniary means required for these purposes have been placed at the disposal of this Committee, and Mr. J. C. Ewart has been appointed the Curator. He will devote his whole time to the performance, under the direction of the Museum Committee, of the duties of his office.

PEEL MEMORIAL FUND.

The income of this Fund in 1875 was expended in the purchase of books &c. presented to the Bolton Mechanics' Institution, the Devonport Mechanics' Institute, the Huddersfield Mechanics' Institution, and the South London Working-Men's College.

The Balance of the Dividends of the Fund now in hand is £55 6*s.* 3*d.*

HOSPITAL.

The total receipts for the year ending October 31st, 1875, including Legacies and the balance from the previous year, amounted to £16,214 2*s.* 10*d.*; the gross expenditure was £12,292 2*s.* 7*d.*, consisting of the following principal items:—£1657 0*s.* 10*d.* on account of debts of the previous year, £10,635 1*s.* 9*d.* for expenses of the current year.

Among the dorations that may be enumerated were one of £500, one of £472 10*s.*, and the sum of £3282 3*s.* 2*d.* from the Estate of the late Miss Agnes Vardell Niven, by her Executors, John Robinson, John Robinson, Jun., and Robert Nicholas Fowler, Esqs.

The balance at the end of the financial year was £3922 13*s.* 1*d.*, and the then outstanding debt amounted to £2070 9*s.* 3*d.*, being £365 above the amount of last year.

The Right Hon. Lord Houghton presided at the Festival on Tuesday, the 16th of March 1875, when the amount subscribed was about £1050.

The ensuing Anniversary will take place on Thursday, February 17th, when the Right Hon. Lord Aberdare has kindly undertaken to preside.

The third Hospital Sunday in London was in June 1875, when collections amounting, with some additions from other sources, to £26,396 were made. The sum allotted to University College Hospital by the Committee to which the duty of distributing this money was entrusted was £930 8*s.* 4*d.*, or less by £279 1*s.* 8*d.* than the sum received last year.

Some important additions have been made to the means of Clinical Instruction in the Hospital during the past year; Dr. Gowers has been appointed Junior Assistant Teacher of Clinical Medicine; Mr. Beck and Mr. Barker have received the appointment of Assistant Teachers of Clinical Surgery. The Hospital Staff has been further strengthened by the appointment of Dr. G. V. Poore to be an Assistant Physician, and of Mr. A. E. Barker to be an Assistant Surgeon. On the resignation by Mr. W. A. Meredith of the post of Resident Medical Officer, that important office was filled by the appointment of Mr. H. R. Crocker, M.D., B.S.; Mr. A. P. Gould, M.B., B.S., has been appointed Surgical Registrar in succession to Mr. J. R. Godlee, on that gentleman's resignation.
